

EK Knowledge

Raising standards across the board

Earl Kendrick are not just industry-leading building surveyors, but experts in all aspects of the business.

EK Knowledge is our way of sharing that expertise in order to raise standards across the board.

All members of the EK team contribute to sharing knowledge by providing training and education to our clients and peers.

EarlKendrick
Knowledge

We hold quarterly breakfast briefing seminars and we provide regular webinars and technical presentations to our key clients.

Topics include the management of major works, maintenance of residential buildings and licence to alter matters, and any other areas in which we identify a need for deeper understanding.

Senior members of our team also contribute to the industry press and technical journals and are regularly invited to speak at industry conferences.
